Market Review, Outlook & Strategy

May was a month of 1Q24 corporate earnings release in the U.S., where 78% of S&P 500 companies reported positive EPS surprises and the S&P 500 universe registered a 6% blended earnings growth yoy. However, all eyes were on Nvidia's result release that once again beat consensus earnings and drove AI-related names higher. Macro wise, US 1Q24 GDP growth print came in at 1.3% whilst April's core CPE inflation indicator remained relatively stable at 2.8% which kept expectations the same for a single rate cut in 2024. Against this backdrop, the S&P 500 and MSCI ACWI index inched higher 4.8% mom and 3.8% mom respectively during the month as good corporate earnings delivery supported the re-rating of share prices. In HK/China, the Hang Seng Index was up 1.8% mom but to a lesser extent as the noise on convertible bond issuances capped market upside with investors weighing the pros and cons of such issuances that offers low coupon rates but equity dilution after a few years upon conversion.

Domestically, the KLCI regained its momentum upwards in May, increasing by 1.3% mom as the market was well supported by the return of foreign investors who net bought RM2.3 bil worth of shares. For the month, we saw investor moving down the value chain towards small caps where FBM Small Caps Index was the best performer rising 4.07% mom. In terms of sectors, the technology sector did well on the back of strong numbers delivered by Nvidia and TSMC amid the AI boom. Apart from that, much of the news surrounded data centers that saw more money flowing into the construction and property sectors. The laggard for the month was the plantation sector as most of the companies delivered weaker than expected earnings. The top three biggest gainers in KLCI were Mr DIY, YTL Corp and Tenaga.

Trading activities wise, it continued to hold up pretty well in May with average daily trading value coming in at RM3.95b as compared to RM2.90b a month ago. Malaysia witnessed several notable events, including the announcement of Special Economic Zones in Johor (i.e. Iskandar, Pengerang), data center investments by Microsoft (USD2.2b) and Google (RM4.9b), as well as the announcement of a RM25b National Semiconductor Strategy. We also witnessed quite a lot of mergers and acquisitions announcements with some of the key ones being MAHB privatization, YTL-Ranhill and GHM Systems. Other than that, BNM held the OPR stable at 3.0% which was in line with expectations. In May, the other Malaysian benchmarks, namely, FBM100, FBM Shariah and FBM Small Cap also gained 2.3% mom, 2.5% mom and 2.4% mom respectively.

Globally, investors will continue to watch the latest developments in global geopolitical risks, global inflation trends and global growth projections to determine the next direction for equity markets. In Malaysia, the market will closely watch for construction project awards, 11th Malaysia-Singapore Leader's Retreat (Sep 24) and Budget 2025 (Oct 24). Policy wise, market participants will closely monitor the fleet card pilot program for diesel subsidies and government's decision on mechanisms to stabilize sugar supply and pricing expected in 2Q24. While sentiment remains positive overall, our strategy remains defensively tilted towards dividend-yielding names. Sectors that we favour include financials (banks), transport, tourism, construction, and commodities (Metals/Oil & Gas).

Investment Risks

All investments carry risks. Policy Owners must be prepared to accept certain degree of risk associated with this Investment. The following are the non-exhaustive list of risks associated to this fund.

1. Market Risk

Market risk stems from the fact that there are other economy-wide perils, which threaten all businesses. It is mainly caused by uncertainties in the economy, political and social environment.

2. Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the fund invested cannot be readily sold and converted into cash. This may arise when the trading volume is low and/or where there is a lack of demand for the security.

3. Credit Risk

This refers to the possibility that the issuer of a security will not be able to make timely payments of interest or principal repayment on the maturity date. The default may lead to a fall in the value of the funds.

4. Interest Rate Risk

The level of interest rates has an impact on the value of investments. Any increase in rates will lead to a fall in the value of securities, thus affecting the value of the funds.

5. Country Risk

The foreign investment of a fund may be affected by the political & economic conditions of the country which the investments are made.

6. Currency Risk

This risk is associated with investments that are denominated in foreign currencies. Fluctuation in foreign exchange rates will have an impact on the value of the funds.

Risk Management

The company has in place its Authorized Investment Framework which forms part of the Risk Management process. The authority framework covers the nature and scope of the investment authority that is exercisable by various parties in managing the Company's investments. The potential investment risks that are taken into consideration in managing the fund include economic conditions, liquidity, qualitative and quantitative aspects of the securities. The investment manager(s) have put in place the following controls to reduce the risks through:

- having a flexible tactical asset allocation
- investing in a wide range of companies across different sectors
- setting prudent investment limits on various exposures
- taking into account the liquidity factor in selecting securities
- engaging in the hedging of foreign currency exposure where appropriate

Basis of Unit Valuation

1. The assets of every fund are to be valued to determine the value at which units of a particular fund can be liquidated or purchased for investment purposes.
2. The unit price of a unit of a fund shall be determined by the Company but in any event shall not be less than the value of fund of the relevant fund (as defined below), divided by the number of units of the given fund in issue on the business day before the valuation date, and the result adjusted to the nearest one hundredth of a cent.
3. The maximum value of any asset of any fund shall not exceed the following price:
  - a) The last transacted market price at which those assets could be purchased or sold on the business day before the valuation date; or
  - b) In the case of securities for which market values are not readily available, the price at which, in our Investment Manager's opinion, the asset may have been purchased on the business day before the valuation date; plus any expenses which would have been incurred in its acquisition.
4. To ensure fair treatment to all unit holders, the cost of acquiring and disposing of assets is recouped by making a transaction cost adjustment to the net asset value per unit.

Exceptional Circumstances

The Company reserves the right to defer the payment of benefits (other than death benefit) under this Policy for a period not exceeding six (6) months from the date the payment would have been normally effected if not for intervening events such as temporary closure of any Stock Exchange in which the fund is invested which the Company, in its discretion, may consider exceptional.

Basis of Calculation of Past Performance

The historical performance of the fund is calculated based on the price difference over the period in consideration compared to the older price of the period in consideration.
